TACTICS

- A Silver Order Soldier operates in disciplined group and tries to stay near other soldiers so it can utilize its Pike Formation and Bastion of Faith ability. It utilizes its Heavy Crossbow only when there is no feasible way to close the distance and establish a battle line. Silver Order soldiers will attempt to dispatch enemy ranged and spellcasters first if they are able to close the distance.
- A Silver Order Acolyte advances with the soldiers but attempts to stay 25-30 feet back from the soldiers so it can still benefit from Bastion of Faith. It tries to open battle with a Faerie Fire on enemies and then switches to Sacred Flame on targets where the Blinded status will be effective. It uses Cure Wounds on elite Silver Order units.
- A Silver Order Flamelancer is typically mounted on a Warhorse. It uses the warhorse's maneuverability to open combat by strafing the enemy frontline with a Flamethrower and then uses its mounted maneuverability to hunt down the enemy ranged or spellcasters and avoid friendly fire when allied soldiers engage
- Silver Order Veteran advances with the Soldiers and uses Tactical Command to reposition soldiers, get vulnerable casters to safety, or for additional attacks by soldiers.
- Silver Order Cavalier uses Summon Steed if not already mounted. It then charges into combat and attempts to get behind the enemy front lines, favoring riding down enemy spellcasters or ranged combatants. If possible, it tries to stay within 30 feet of other Silver Order members to activate Bastion of Faith
- Silver Order Chaplain is a spellcaster but is heavily armored, especially when Bastion of Faith is active. It prioritizes staying near the soldiers to provide them Shepard of the Faithful. It tries to open combat with a Flame Strike and then prioritizes dispelling enemy magic or curing elite units. If engaged in melee by a superior foe, it can use Sacred Flame to attempt to blind the enemy, strike them twice with advantage, and then retreat. If engaged in melee by a weaker foe it will happily strike them down with Sacred Flame and Blessed Blades. It prioritizes its reaction for Warding Flare because its high AC means disadvantage is particularly effective.

SAYINGS AND SCRIPTURE

One of the most challenging parts of running a religious faction like the Silver Order is creating appropriate sayings, prayers, and other religious sayings. These can be difficult to improvise on the spot. This table provides some quotations that can be used to help you run Silver Order social encounters.

- 20 "May the shield of the Silver Order protect us from all harm, and may its sword strike down all that would threaten the innocent."

FACTION ALLIANCES

This material is a summary of the Drakkenheim Faction Alliance cheat sheet, focusing on just the Silver Order.

SILVER ORDER ALLIANCE PARTNERS

| Alliance Partner | Difficulty to Establish | Difficulty to Maintain |
|------------------|-------------------------|------------------------|
| Hooded Lanterns  | Easy                    | Easy                   |
| Amethyst Academy | Temporary Only          | Very Hard              |
| Queen's Men      | Temporary Only          | Very Hard              |
| Falling Fire     | Temporary Only          | Very Hard              |

SILVER ORDER + HOODED LANTERNS

Difficulty: Easy to establish and maintain

SHARED IDEALS

Drakkenheim can be Restored - we can rebuild this once glorious city. We might have to burn it to the ground first, though.

Delerium is too Dangerous - we can't restore our glorious city until Delerium is dealt with.

HOODED LANTERN DEMANDS

Declaration of Intent - the Lanterns require that the Silver Order formally pledge their intentions and renounce any political designs on the rulership of Westemar

Military Support - the Lanterns want access to the manpower and material supplies of the Silver Order

SILVER ORDER DEMANDS

Help in the Battle of Temple Gate - the Silver Order requires assistance from the elite units of the Hooded Lanterns in acquiring their own foothold in the city

Free the Cathedral - the Silver Order requires assistance from the elite units of the Hooded Lanterns in defeating the Lord of the Feast and freeing the Cathedral of St. Vitruvius

POTENTIAL CONFLICTS

Burn it Down - the Silver Order wishes to destroy all Delerium. As the campaign progresses, all parties should realize how difficult this will be. The Hooded Lanterns will need to accept that Drakkenheim cannot be restored as it once was while Delerium exists. This may necessitate drastic measures to cleanse the city.

FACTION RESPONSES

The Amethyst Academy and Falling Fire may team up together to make the Battle of Temple Gate a bloodbath for the Silver Order and Hooded Lanterns, perhaps by luring the Lord of the Feast directly into the battle. The Academy doesn't wish any one faction to become too powerful in the city, and the Falling Fire wants to get access to the Cathedral. The Queen's Men would work to infiltrate the alliance and use it to collect the seals for them, before stealing them.

SILVER ORDER + FALLING FIRE

At the start of the campaign, these two factions are very close to outright hostilities. They do have a lot of common ground in their shared beliefs in the Sacred Flame, but it would take something truly big to align these two factions. It's possible the Silver Order could become converted to the Falling Fire through major actions of the PCs.

SILVER ORDER + ACADEMY

At the start of the campaign, these two factions have deep-seated animosity against each other. The most likely reason for these two to ally would be in response to the Falling Fire gaining a major presence in the city. Even then, the alliance would be a temporary one of convenience and would break apart shortly. It's also possible that the Amethyst Academy could realize that Delerium poses an existential threat and be willing to enact the Silver Order's plans, but that would require major work to change the Academy's goals.

SILVER ORDER + QUEEN'S MEN

At the start of the campaign, these two factions have major ideological differences. The most likely reason for these two to ally is a temporary arrangement whereby the Queen's Men are hired to assist the Silver Order deal with another faction. The most likely target to deal with seems to be the Falling Fire. It's also possible the Silver Order would work with the Queen's Men to undermine the reunification of Westemar in order to further their goals in Drakkenheim.

IMPROBABLE ALLIANCES

Some alliances seem almost impossible to establish at the start of the campaign due to fundamental incompatibilities in beliefs. It would be very difficult for these factions to proactively work together.

There are some situations where an alliance of these factions could occur:

- As a temporary response against a powerful PC-led alliance
- PCs take over the faction and replace its leadership structure
- PCs re-engineer the core beliefs or goals of the factions somehow
- PCs infiltrate the faction as "puppet-masters"
- PCs dismantle the faction and absorb the pieces into their own

In most of these cases, the alliance wouldn't really be about negotiating and compromise, but instead would focus on taking down a shared threat. It would break down shortly afterwards.
